A terrible snowslide occurred at Sierra City, Cal., last Friday. Several head of cattle were carried away. The schoolhouse is situated close to the slaughter house where the cattle were, and it is a great wonder the children escaped.

Miss Bessie Reed has resigned her position at Stewart Institute and will return to her home in Nova Scotia. Her place has been filled by Miss Belle Wheeler, who in turn is succeeded by her sister, Miss Frances Wheeler.

It is said that one of the factors that is acting against DeYoung just now in his race for the Senate, is the fact that the so called gold medals awarded the various counties of California, for successful exhibits, are merely plated and very thinly plated at that.

A Mint in Lincoln County.

A mining company in Lincoln county has assumed the coinage of money. Silver is scarce in the town and to supply the wants of the community the De Lamar Company has had coins of the denominations of 12 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents and one dollar struck. The coins state on their face that they will be redeemed at the office of the mining company. The papers say they are a great convenience for merchants, business men and the public generally. They are very light being made of aluminum, and pass as readily as if they were gold and silver.

What is to prevent mining companies or others where money is scarce, from issuing token money made of silver and putting enough metal in the coin to make it equal to its face value? In that case if silver advanced in price the holder of the coin would not present it for redemption, and the company would receive the market value of the silver at the time the coin was struck. It would certainly make money more plentiful, and, as was the case with greenbacks years ago in Nevada the holder might keep the coins for speculative purposes.

Board of Pardons.

At the Board of Pardons yesterday the following business was transacted: J. Kincart, pardon granted. Austin Grey, pardon granted. C. H. Leman, continued until July. Chas. Bush, restored to citizenship. J. J. O'Donnell, restored to citizenship.

ADVERTISING NEVADA.

BILLY TAYLOR GIVES THE SAGEBRUSH A SEND OFF.

Billy Taylor who is in Chicago as the Nevada representative of the A. O. U. W. has been interviewed by the Chicago Journal.

W. L. Taylor of Carson City, Nev., is stopping at the Grand Pacific. He comes to Chicago to represent the American Order of United Workmen of his State at the Supreme Relief Board of the order, which is now in session. When seen by a reporter for the Journal he spoke most hopefully of Nevada's prospects for the immediate future. Notwithstanding silver mines have been shut down throughout the State, and on this account its most paying business is sorely paralyzed, there is no reason whatever for taking a gloomy view of the State's future, for already the people have begun to turn their attention to other matters, which may in the end prove equally remunerative. There is, of course, a renewed activity in gold mining, and then agriculture and stock raising have received just such an impetus as has been needed for years to develop the fertile valleys and grass-covered side-hills.

"We have no reason to complain out in my State," said Mr. Taylor, "except for the unfair stories that have been circulated in the East about us. We have a large State—third in point of area in the Union—and not many people, but those who are there are energetic and of the very best blood in the Nation. We are not feeling the hard times much now, for we had them long before the East did, in fact when the silver mines were shut down by the demonetization of silver. But we have recovered quite rapidly, and, while we are not so prosperous now as before silver-mining was stopped, we are doing very well, indeed, with farming and stock-raising, and what activity there is in gold-mining."

SILVER HER GREATEST INDUSTRY

"It was a heavy blow to Nevada when it was found that her silver mines could not be worked longer at a profit. The whole State seems to have a silver foundation, and nearly all its business centered around this single industry. There is very little mining of any other kind there. The gold mines that had been opened were not very productive, and no one paid much attention to them. So you can see what we would suffer by having the most profitable industry in the State shut down."

"But there are, nevertheless, a large number of mines still in operation. There is the old Comstock lode at Virginia City, west of Carson City. Its ore assays at about equal parts gold and silver. I believe about 66 per cent gold. This is what enables the mine to be worked now with profit. Then there are other mines in different parts of the State, which produce gold, but they are not to be compared with the silver mines for productiveness. In the eastern part of the State there is the Eureka mining district, which is quite productive. Efforts are being made continually to locate other gold mines, and there are many small properties which produce gold entirely. Among these are the Ferguson, the Silver Star and the Pine Nut mines, of which the last named is not far from Carson City."

"But our resources are not so limited as this may indicate," Mr. Taylor continued. "We are raising a great many cattle and sheep for the California and Eastern markets. In San Francisco they bring the very highest prices, and always meet with a ready sale. The result is that the people have been turning their attention more largely to cattle and sheep raising."

WELL ADAPTED FOR STOCK.

"Our valleys and hills are as rich and fertile as any spot in the world, and, in fact, I think these old-fashioned but substantial means of gaining wealth have been neglected in the wild race after great fortunes in the mines. But now that the people have been forced to look about them for other means of gaining a livelihood, they find it readily enough at their very feet. The hills make the best grazing ranches in the world, and the valleys raise as fine cereals as are to be found anywhere. You cannot find better small grain and potatoes anywhere than we are raising now."

"Has Nevada suffered much from emigration since the silver mines have closed down?" was asked.

"No, the State is just about holding its own there. Its population was never large, and they are a neighborly race of people who have come to depend upon one another. They are doing very well now, but they all hope to see the silver mines again opened, and if silver ever goes up to a dollar an ounce every mine in the State will open. It is to that end that all our Representatives in Congress are laboring, as you may know. We have but one party there. It is known as the 'Silver party,' and it embraces nearly everybody. Its object is to have laws passed which will afford us relief."

"Do you believe any law can make your silver worth a dollar an ounce?" was asked.

"O, yes; we believe that it will be worth that if the Government puts its stamp on it. At any rate that is what we all think out in Nevada."

BREAKING THE MARKET.

THE PROBLEM OF GETTING MEAT AND GROCERIES AT A LOWER RATE.

Within the past two weeks there has been a decided smashing of prices in meat and groceries. Kelly Bros. are accorded the credit of breaking the market in groceries, and most of the grocers have met the cut rates for cash and are doing a rushing business. It has been a matter of common comment, that for many years past, Carson City has been losing a great deal of trade by reason of the high price of groceries. Merchants found it hard to accommodate themselves to the change in times and change the old rates. Consumers, also looking out for No. 1, traded where they could do the best, and thousands of dollars were sent to Sacramento and San Francisco for family supplies.

Kelly Bros. started a grocery on the proposition of large sales and small profits, and selling for cost. Their success has been something phenomenal, and the grocers who have met the cut rate also say that business has picked up a great deal, and the end of the week finds them with larger sales and better cash profits. The cut in groceries has caused a great deal of money to be kept in circulation in Carson that used to go abroad, and it is better all round. Now if Kelly Bros. will stick to their original prices and sell their goods at the prices they first originated, and not get flushed with success and advance prices, they will make a ten strike in this city.

Chubbuck Bros and Co. have started out to break the high prices of meat, and already their business has been something astonishing. Last Saturday their hooks were crowded full of meat, and the knowing ones predicted that it would be some time before they worked it off. At the present writing they have sold out twice and had to send up the Valley for more meat. They have given the public the advantage of the present low price of beef cattle, and the public are quick to appreciate it.

One of the innovations introduced by the Chubbuck Bros. in the meat business is the itemizing of bills, doing away with the old fashioned lump bills inscribed, "Meat to date."

Thought he Could Risk it.

A man in this city who has been suffering from nervous mental troubles was advised by his physician to abstain from reading.

The other day he was found reading and the Doctor reproached him.

"What reading! Its against orders."

"But Doctor only some of the reports of the retiring Republican State officers."

"Ah perhaps you can risk that, but mind now old fellow, nothing that requires mental exertion or you'll have a set back."
